

Barton cancels tax talk; peeves township officials

An anticipated face-to-face discussion between Madison County Supervisor of Assessments James Barton and township officials over the reasons for late tax billing this year failed to occur as Barton cancelled his planned Thursday night appearance before the Madison County Township Officials organization in Edwardsville.

Displeasure over delays in Madison County's tax billing prompted township officials to pass a resolution encouraging a method to accelerate the billing process.

THIS PLAN would give taxpayers two bills: one for an estimated half of the bill and a later adjusted second half bill, making up the difference.

Nameoki Township Tax Collector Norman Hall, treasurer of the township officials' group, said the cost of two billings would be minimal when compared with the interest taxing bodies are paying on borrowed money.

When tax bills are sent out late, as they will be again this year, government bodies do not see the money until late summer or the fall. Since most governmental bodies' fiscal years end on April 30, many are forced to borrow money to solve their cash flow problems. This year, the tax monies may be delayed until November.

ACCELERATED billing is used in several other Illinois counties to help prevent tax-supported bodies from borrowing money.

Locally, the Granite City School District has been affected by late billings and estimates that it pays $800 a day in interest when taxes are not received on time. The school board will discuss details of a $6.6 million bond issue at the board's meeting tomorrow night.

Township officials passed the resolution at what was supposed to be an informative meeting about why tax bills are late this year. Barton, however, cancelled Thursday afternoon.

FRED FINCK, a member of the Madison County Board of Review, was scheduled to take Barton's place, but he, too, cancelled because of a softball game he was coaching.

New quotas could help steel mills

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Editor

A recommendation of the U.S. International Trade Commission (ITC) to impose import quotas and additional tariffs on imported steel may provide some help for National Steel Corp. and Granite City Steel, but what is needed most is passage of the Fair Trade in Steel Act, according to a spokesman for Granite City Steel.

The ITC on a 3-2 vote has recommended that serious harm to the domestic steel industry could be reduced by limiting imports to between 6.4 and 31.8 percent, depending on the product and the year. However, steelmakers are disappointed in the limitations for semi-finished steel products and structural shapes offer less relief than was sought.

IMPORTS ACCOUNTED for 29.5 percent of all American steel consumption last year. According to the American Iron and Steel Institute, imports amounted to 24.7 percent in the first five months of 1984, up from 18.6 percent in the same period last year.

The ITC recommendation is linked to a condition that the U.S. Steel industry modernize facilities and management practices and accept wage and pension concessions during the quota period. Periodic ITC reviews are recommended and, "if these reviews do not reveal meaningful efforts to adjust by all involved in the steel industry, the relief should be terminated," warned ITC Commissioner David Rohr in the majority opinion.

Granite City Steel's public relations director, Daniel Hines, told the Press-Record that he believes Granite City and National Steel are meeting the desires of the ITC. "A lot of things are being done here to modernize," he said of Granite City Steel. Examples, he cited are that LBE (low blow equipment) is being installed in the bottom of the basic oxygen furnace units to improve the quality of steel, new computers are being installed in the 80-inch hot strip line, new cast house emissions controls are being installed and other improvements are underway.

"There is a lot of movement to modernize the plant," Hines said.

HE ALSO NOTED that National Steel's employees already have "given up quite a bit" to help make the U.S. steel industry more competitive.

The trade petition for the ITC to recommend quotas and additional tariffs on imported steel was filed by Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers of America.

Donald H. Trautwein, chairman of Bethlehem Steel, and Lynn H. Williams, president of the union, joined in a news conference in Pittsburgh last week to announce that they are willing to tie trade relief to some of the commission's recommendations to modernize, but they avoided the sensitive question of additional wage concessions.

THE ITC recommendation now goes to President Ronald Reagan, who must decide by Sept. 24 whether to accept, reject, modify or ignore it. National sources indicate that Reagan will be under pressure to help the producers due to the upcoming election, but would prefer to negotiate voluntary restrictions on imported steel from developing countries.

The ITC is recommending quotas primarily on imported sheet and strip, plate, structural and wire. Tariffs would increase on all imported wire products. Duties would rise on semi-finished steel only on imports exceeding 1.5 million tons, and those imports have never before exceeded a million tons.

Granite City Steel may take advantage of its upcoming merger with Nippon Kokan K.K. of Japan to import more Japanese semi-finished steel in return for more finished steel being shipped out of the country from Granite City.

THE PROPOSED limitations on steel imports have not been greeted warmly in Europe and other countries importing steel to this country. The 3-2 vote of the ITC is cited as evidence that the problem is a complex one and quotas are not universally liked.

Hines said that quotas are better from a domestic manufacturer's standpoint, than tariffs. "Tariffs only charge them (foreign producers) for dumping their subsidized steel here. By the time you prove the tariff limits have been violated, you (domestic producers) have already been harmed. It is too late," Hines said.

He said export quotas, such as those called for in the Fair Trade in Steel Act, would provide greater protection. That act would limit imported steel to 15 percent of the American market for five years.

HOUSE RESOLUTION 5081, the house version of the Fair Trade in Steel Act, is co-sponsored by 200 representatives, including Paul Simon and Melvin Price. The Senate version, Senate Bill 2380, is co-sponsored by U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon, but not by Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois.

"Granite City Steel will be in touch with Sen. Percy and ask him to co-sponsor SB 2380," Hines pledged.

Venice seeks help curbing park vandalism

By PAT HAY LUTZ
For the Press-Record

Extensive vandalism to the Venice Recreation Center and Lee Park facilities prompted Venice Park Board members to issue a "plea for help" from the community during their monthly meeting Thursday night.

In a report to the board, Park Superintendent Robert Wigfall informed the board that burglars had stolen all power tools from the park garage and that he intends to reinforce that wall damaged during the break-in.

"THEY'LL HAVE to tear the whole wall down to get into it when I get through with it," Wigfall stated.

Park Commissioner Earl Hogan reported that cans and bricks had been put into commodes and three limbs that had been strewn over the floors of the park restrooms.

Asking local residents to "keep an eye" on the park and the recreation center, Park Board Member John Henry Williams said public help is needed to curb the vandalism and burglaries. "As soon as we get something up, somebody takes it or tears it up. We need to catch just one person and make an example out of him," he said.

THE REV. WILLIAMS also cited persons who loiter around the center and allegedly drink alcohol on the premises.

"The public pays for this park," Williams said. "They'll have to help us. Anyone who sees something going on can call the police. They don't have to give their name or number, just tell them that something's going on," he added.

Board members discussed the possibility of new lock systems and the installation of a burglar alarm on buildings to prevent future thefts.

FIRE THIS MORNING in the former Franklin-Union Furniture building at 19th Street and Delmar Avenue is extinguished by Granite City firefighters. A policeman noticed the fire at 3:50 a.m. today and called the building's owner, Nelson Hediger, and Pauline Turnbough, who operates Pauline's Cafe on the ground floor. The fire damaged rooms in the top floors and there was smoke and water damage to other parts of the building. One fireman suffered a minor injury. The extent of the damage had not been determined this morning.

Raises proposed for staff of SIU

Should Governor James Thompson approve, Southern Illinois University faculty, staff and administrators will receive salary increases ranging from 4.8 to 6 percent.

The SIU Board of Trustees last week approved an average salary increase of five percent for faculty at SIU—at Edwardsville and an average increase of six percent for faculty at SIU—Carbondale. Internal budget revisions allow SIUC to provide the additional one percent raise.

UNDER THE proposal, SIU Chancellor Kenneth Shaw's salary would increase 4.8 percent, bringing his yearly earnings to $93,807. SIUC President Albert Somit and SIUE President Earl Lazerson would receive five percent increases, bringing Somit's salary to $76,293 and Lazerson's to $70,912. The raises would be retroactive to July 1.

In addition to these salary increases, the board approved guidelines for developing next year's budget, including an average 12 percent salary increase for faculty, professional staff, civil service and administrators. The budget planning guidelines will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education.

The salary increases are part of a "catch-up" plan designed to bring SIU salaries in line with those of other universities.

IN OTHER action Thursday, the board compiled its upcoming capital budget request list, known as the "wish list," including $450,000 in planning money for a new art and design center for SIUE.

Officials are planning to build an $8.4 million building to house the Department of Art and Design.

which will replace the department's current home at the Wagner Complex on Hale and Brown streets in Edwardsville. Officials say it would eliminate the need for extensive renovation of the complex.

The proposed building will provide almost 35,000 square feet of space for studios, classrooms and offices.

THIS AND OTHER capital improvement requests will be submitted to the Illinois Board of Higher Education. The board is requesting a total $2.3 million for capital improvements during fiscal 1986.

Also on the priority list is a project to renovate the Broadway Building at the East St. Louis Center at a cost of $55,000. Officials are seeking $588,200 to expand the dental clinic at the center from nine to 24 operating rooms.

Other project requests include $148,200 for the first of a three-phase remodeling project at the SIU School of Dental Medicine, $502,631 for energy conservation projects on six buildings at SIUE and $101,000 to replace carpeting in the Lovejoy Library.

The board approved a request for $1.8 million in new state resources for fiscal 1986. The Resource Allocation and Management Program planning documents include expansion of degree programs and analytical studies.

SIUE HAS requested almost $200,000 to create a master's degree program in computer science and additional funds to offer a master of business administration program at Rend Lake Community College near Mount Vernon.

Computer science, engineering and nursing programs would be improved, should SIU receive its funding requests.

Cable TV to reach Arlington, Guth areas

Residents of Arlington Heights and the Guth Road area north of Granite City will be offered cable TV service from South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., by the end of July, it was announced Friday.

The cable firm announced that it is extending its lines to several areas in the Granite City and Collinsville areas. Other areas which will receive service by the end of the month are Wilson Heights, the frontage road along Interstate 70-S and Keebler Road near Collinsville.

"THIS PROJECT is a part of our commitment to improving and expanding cable service," said Leon Carruth, system general manager.

He also noted that construction of cable lines is to begin soon in Venice and that the company is negotiating with the city of Madison for the purchase of its city-owned cable system.

Carruth said the combined expansions of cable TV service areas will cost more than $250,000. "For years, residents in these areas have tried to get cable service. We think expansion of our system is good business and good for the area we serve," he said.

South-Western Cable TV, Ltd., was purchased last year by First Carolina Communications, Inc., which is headquartered in Rocky Mount, N.C.

Nameoki may accept ownership of Clinton, Shirlene ponds

By PAT LUTZ
for the Press-Record

The dispute over who is responsible for maintaining the Clinton Drive and Shirlene Drive holding ponds may be resolved with the passage of a resolution accepting the stormwater drainage ponds into the township, according to H. Carl Runge Jr., attorney for the Nameoki Township Highway Department.

During last week's meeting of the town board, Runge told township officials that agreements to maintain the holding ponds that were signed by previous Highway Commissioner Albert Bell and reaffirmed by current Commissioner Frank Mehelic were "illegal" because the town board had never officially accepted the holding ponds when they were dedicated to the township.

Since no official action was ever taken to accept the property into the township, the holding ponds remain private property, Runge explained. "No road commissioner, whether it be Albert Bell or Frank Mehelic or the man in the moon, has the authority to maintain private property," Runge said.

He also reminded the board that he has urged them to officially act to accept the deeds several times, stating that no highway commissioner had the right to accept any property into the township.

"The problem is that the board of trustees needs to act on it," Runge said. "The highway commissioner cannot accept anything on the behalf of the township."

Runge hesitated to say that the drainage problems would be solved with the passage of the resolution, arguing that the highway commissioner is only responsible for maintenance of the township roads.

The road commissioner is here for the purpose of keeping the streets dry, not for the purpose of keeping basements dry," he said. "When the streets are dry, that's the end of it."

He suggested that the health and highway departments combine their efforts to eliminate both problems and the highway department "should coordinate their efforts, find the money, and get the job done," Runge stated.

While one major problem seems closer to being resolved, another potentially dangerous situation has surfaced.

In an effort to dispose of approximately 22 barrels of unlabeled "weedkiller" presently stored in a shed at the township hall, township officials have contacted Chemical Waste Management Inc. for assistance. Only to be given nearly 30 pages of forms and instructions which must be filled out before "approval of any waste material" may be given.

An up-front fee of $300 is required to process these forms.

"Complaints by road crew workers about the odor surrounding the barrels and the possible hazards from leakage and corrosion prompted Runge to contact the county and Illinois Environmental Protection Association. But IEPA officials told him that they could not dispose of the barrels."

Many of the barrels have been removed from the barrels or have been painted over, making it impossible to determine exactly what the barrels contain, but crew members who have been employed by the township for several years claim that they contain "weedkiller," possible DDT. Leakage is apparent under some of the barrels and many of them are rusted through.

In other business, board members voiced opposition to an application by Fairmont Land Development Company to develop a 125-acre land fill approximately one mile north of Fairmont City.

Both the Wildlife Management Institute and the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U.S. Department of the Interior have recommended the denial of the permit, saying that the soil, building debris and ash from a municipal garbage incinerator that would be dumped there would alter the chemical and biological makeup of the land.

Calling the area an "important wetland habitat," officials from these groups contended that wildlife, including wintering waterfowl, herons, egrets, muskrats and raccoons, would be lost to the area by the destruction of this habitat to build the landfill.

The site has been used as a dumping area for many years, with barrels containing unknown substances already lying there.

Since the area is so close to Horseshoe Lake, township officials are worried about leakage from the landfill, contaminating the water supply.

SIGNING UP. Residents of Norwood and Briarcliff Subdivisions voice their displeasure with the Knights of Columbus' plans to rezone the former Johnson School by placing "No Knights" signs in their front yards. The residents and the Knights reached an impasse in their negotiations two weeks ago, when it was announced that plans for a private road leading to the fraternal facility would be delayed for at least two years. The Granite City Council is scheduled to vote on the zoning issue at the July 24 meeting.

Postal customers invited to 'pick the flowers'

There are no "Please don't pick the flowers" signs at the Granite City Post Office. Postmaster Jack D. Wilkins says, in fact, "We invite our customers to pick our flowers, which blossomed for springtime with the issue of a block of four orchids stamps. These and a number of other stamps featuring colorful renditions of people, places and events are available from our office."

Wilkins says his office is participating in a nationwide program to call attention to the Postal Service's newest floral stamps and to stamp collecting, which is the world's most popular hobby. The national promotion, which involves more than 19,000 post offices, encourages customers to "Collect beauty... collect stamps." Wilkins says about 22 million Americans already do collect stamps.

"Stamp collecting is an excellent family activity," he says. "It provides entertainment for rainy or sunny days. And collecting stamps is an entertaining way to learn about people, places and events which have helped shape our nation's history or to focus on the rich national treasures our nation enjoys."

And, the postmaster adds, "This is one activity that does not cost a fortune to become involved in." To illustrate the point, Wilkins calls attention to two fraternal project kits the post office is distributing — free of charge — to young collectors. The two projects involve youngsters in constructing a Summer Olympics mobile and mailing a series of 16 flowers "pen pal" post cards. These materials are being distributed through local stamp clubs, elementary schools and public libraries.

Postmaster Wilkins says four popular philatelic products are being featured by his office during the spring season.

The new 1984 U.S. Commemorative Collecting Kit is a perfect starter kit for a young collector. It is priced at $3 and features a 20-page illustrated stamp album depicting all 1984 commemorative stamp issues. It also includes seven mint stamps, and informative booklet — "Introduction to Stamp Collecting" — and enough plastic mounts to hold all of the 1984 commemorative issues.

— The "1983 Definitive Mint Set" includes a 24-page album printed in full color and features stamp-related information and photographs as well as mint copies of all regular stamps and postal stationery items for 1983. It is priced at $6.25.

Also available is the "1983 Commemorative Mint Set." Postmaster Wilkins says that this kit and the new "1983 Definitive Mint Set" together provide all of the stamps issued by the Postal Service in 1983.

The 10th edition of "The Postal Service Guide to U.S. Stamps," which features stamp value, issuance data and interesting stories behind U.S. stamps is also being featured this month.

"This is a spring line which will never go out of fashion," Postmaster Wilkins says. "We hope our customers will use this opportunity to start their stamp collection and watch it grow."

'The Asthma Handbook' available

The majority of us aren't even aware that we breathe unless we're engaged in vigorous exercise or performing a strenuous physical task. But about five million Americans over the age of 17 have asthma, a lung disease that results in breathing problems, usually occurring at sudden and unexpected times.

Asthmatic episodes make breathing difficult. Respiration becomes labored as air is forced through constricted airways of the lungs. Knowing what to do can help asthma, with the result that there may be fewer and milder episodes.

The local chapter of the American Lung Association has just issued "The Asthma Handbook," which covers the facts and fictions about causes of asthma. A public health service grant by Key Pharmaceuticals, Inc. in part helped subsidize publication of the colorful illustrated booklet that gives case histories of different kinds of asthma. It is intended to help the asthma sufferer and members of the family to control asthma episodes. The Asthma Handbook is available from the American Lung Association, Lewis and Clark Region, Post Office Box 158, Wood River, Ill. 62095.

DUI CHARGE FOLLOWS ACCIDENT ON MADISON

Richard L. Hutson, 44, of 2705 Angela Drive, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol following an accident on Madison Avenue at 27th Street last week.

A van operated by Hutson allegedly struck the motorcycle of Robert K. Jarman, 25, of 2905 Circle Drive, who was halted for a red light at 27th Street.

Hutson declined to take a blood alcohol test, reports said. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond and his driver's license.

Venice residents asked to aid police, report suspicious acts

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Assistance from residents to help curb the increased number of break-ins occurring in Venice within the last few weeks is being sought by Mayor Tyrone Echols and Police Chief Farris Smith.

"We've had a lot of break-ins and I'm getting a lot of calls. People are scared," Fourth Ward Alderman Victor Valentine Sr. said to introduce the topic at last week's meeting of the Venice City Council.

"Kids are standing on the sidewalks in front of people's homes all night. They are dice shooting on Weaver Street and drinking liquor there all the time and I'm going to continue to complain about this," the alderman stated.

"The police are doing a fine job, but more has to be given. This problem has gotten out of hand. Our Fourth Ward citizens cannot sleep in peace and we must have law and order. I am pleading for more cars (squad cars) making more movement in our city."

The alderman contended that even in the daylight hours, 4 p.m. specifically, "they are shooting dice. This is ridiculous."

"One day, after work, I sat there a whole hour and no police car came by. I know we are short of police officers, but we are in dire need of police services," he said.

Second Ward Alderman George Mangiaracino agreed with the statements, noting, "There have been quite a few break-ins in our ward too," and Second Ward Alderman Hank Stetia commented that such problems always seem to increase in the summer months.

"We will do something about it, but we need to get the help our citizens," Mayor Echols stated. "People seeing these things should call the police. They don't have to give their names."

"It is impossible to patrol everywhere and see everything and most of the time when the police get there, the dice shooters and waiters just break and run. If we lean heavy enough on the ones that we do catch, we might discourage the others," the mayor stressed.

Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Haynes Sr. suggested that any Venice resident seeing anything out of the ordinary call the police department at 877-2114.

He also suggested the caller does not have to state his name and address, but give the location of the incident taking place.

In line with the same subject, Mayor Echols proposed the council review the provisions of a parental responsibility ordinance, initially proposed last summer.

The statute enables a fine to be levied against the parent, guardian or other adult having the care and custody of a minor under the age of 17 years, if the minor is found on the streets or any other unsupervised place between the hours of 11 p.m. and 6 a.m., except on Fridays and Saturdays, when the curfew hours are extended from midnight until 6 a.m.

A fine of not less than $15 nor more than $50 for each violation was proposed in the ordinance, with the fine assessed against the offender's parent or guardian.

A similar ordinance has been successfully used in East St. Louis to control juvenile crime by making the parent or guardian responsible by law for controlling the actions of minors.

Mayor Echols proposed the council members study the ordinance and deliberate its merits at the July 24 meeting.

After the council session, the Rev. John Henry Williams, former president of the Venice Park Board, said considerable vandalism is taking place every day in Lee Park.

"We have a beautiful park and it is being vandalized daily and it's getting worse. And, it is not the small children who are responsible," he stated.

"I hope anyone who sees any act of vandalism in the park will call the police and report it and give the name of the person, if they know who is doing this damage," the park board member said.

Harold Wilson Sr., a Madison County sheriff's deputy who lives in Venice, commented after the meeting that residents should watch out for one another. "People should organize in their own block to watch for strangers, unfamiliar vehicles or persons acting in a suspicious manner," he said.

He recounted an incident in Venice last year when this form of neighborhood watch program resulted in police retrieving a weapon from a large scale burglary in St. Louis, in which 180 weapons had been stolen.

Police Chief Smith also asked for more cooperation from the public, noting that he has only two policemen available on each shift, plus a dispatcher in the office.

Acknowledging the concerns expressed in the meeting, Smith commented afterward about the problems involved.

"We have just two cars on the street at one time and there is a lot of ground to cover. So, we do need the assistance and support of the residents," he stressed.

Argument, accident result in charges

John P. Moore, 19, of 114 Holiday Mobile Home Park, was arrested last week following an argument and accident outside the home of Ray Howland, 2606 Lincoln Ave.

Howland told police that he and Moore had been sitting in the backyard when an argument started. Moore allegedly backed an auto out of the driveway and struck a 1972 car belonging to Carl Hozian Jr., 2256 W. 20th St., which was parked at the curb.

Howland alleged Moore got out of his vehicle and threatened him and a fight ensued. Both men were standing at the curb when officers arrived.

Moore, whose face was bleeding, was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment and was released to police.

He was charged with assault and driving while his license was suspended. Moore was released after posting a $54 cash bond.

Local boy saves sister, mother from drowning

By SUSANNE INDELICATO
of the Press-Record

Ronnie George got to do about anything he wanted Monday. His mother, Peggy George, says he deserves it because, she says, she and her daughter, Kim, owe their lives to the 9-year-old Logan School student.

Mrs. George, of 21414 Delmar Ave., says it was because Ronnie's quick thinking and deliberate action that she and her 11-year-old daughter did not drown last week in Carlyle Lake in Clinton County.

According to Mrs. George, she, her daughter and son were swimming in the lake when her daughter's inner tube began drifting away from her. She attempted to get the inner tube back, but it continued to drift away.

"I could see she was in trouble," Mrs. George says. She swam to her daughter, who by now was crying. When she reached Kim, she began struggling and pulling her mother down. "I told her, 'Kim, if you don't calm down, you're gonna kill us,'" Mrs. George said.

Meanwhile, Ronnie was swimming with the aid of a surfboard. "I got out one good scream," Mrs. George related, "and he heard it."

Ronnie guided the surfboard to the struggling mother and daughter and calmly said, "Here, Mom." He waited until mother and daughter had climbed onto the board and then pushed them toward shore, the mother related.

Mrs. George says both her children are good swimmers, but she and Kim had struggled so much and swallowed so much water that she believes they may have drowned had Ronnie not acted so quickly.

MIA's need, deserve our support

Whether or not the United States should have been involved in the Vietnam War is something upon which few people agree. But the return of those who fought in the controversial war is an issue in which all Americans should be in agreement.

This week, coinciding with POW-MIA Week, at least three Granite City families will give thought to the plight of nearly 2,500 American civilians and servicemen who have not returned from the war in Southeast Asia.

For these families, the week takes on a special meaning because it marks another year with no word of their sons, brothers or husbands' whereabouts.

Those unaccounted for in our community include: U.S. Air Force Captain John Bernard Causey, who was reported killed in action (KIA) in North Vietnam on Feb. 25, 1966; U.S. Army Warrant Officer James Leslie Dayton, who was reported KIA in South Vietnam on May 8, 1968; and U.S. Navy Captain Roger Burns Innes, who was reported missing in action (MIA) in North Vietnam on Dec. 27, 1967. All Americans, and especially those from the Granite City area, should be united in the cause to find out what has happened to the remains of those soldiers listed as KIA and for the release of those Americans who are possibly being held against their will.

Families of those still missing are not able to put the war behind them. And the war won't be over for them until those missing are accounted for.

We feel the holding back of information about our sons, brothers and husbands is inexcusable and that every effort should be made by our community to find out what has happened to our three residents, as well as the rest of the "missing" Americans.

We urge the residents of the Quad-City area to write to their congressmen and to contact the League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia.

The POW-MIA situation is one issue where every voice makes a difference. Our war dead at least deserve the right to be buried at home.

First woman veep

On Thursday, former vice president and Democratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale made the announcement that Rep. Geraldine Ferraro was his selection as a vice presidential running mate, making her the first women ever to be selected to run for such a position. Quad-Cityans were asked Friday their reactions to Mondale's announcement. Their reactions follow:

Dean Harrell, Granite City

"I think it (selecting Ferraro) was done to improve his ability to get votes. I see a lot of women voting for Mondale now who wouldn't have before the announcement. I do, however, think Mondale was under a lot of pressure from the women's groups to name her. I just hope she was selected because she's the best candidate."

Pat Geiger, Granite City

"I think it's fantastic that a woman has been selected as a vice presidential candidate. I don't feel like the reason she's been selected is because she's a woman. I think she obviously has the credentials for the position or Mondale wouldn't have selected her."

Fred Reer, Pontoon Beach

"I'm just not ready for a woman to be vice president. I've been a Democrat all my life, and to be truthful, it makes me less likely to vote that way now. If the election was today, I'm not sure which way I'd vote."

Doris Jones, Pontoon Beach

"No, I don't think his (Mondale's) selection was a good one. I'm not sure if she's capable of handling the pressure of such a position. I'm all for women having jobs, but I don't think they should be in politics. And, also, I think Mondale was pressured to name her. I'm not so sure that she's the best candidate."

Engineer says old pool could be saved

To the Editor:

I am writing to express my concern over some aspects of the proposal to build a new swimming pool in Wilson Park. First, I should say that I feel a public swimming pool is one of the most important recreational and sports facilities in the community. It provides a significant opportunity for children to learn to survive and to enjoy themselves in an important part of the environment.

However, as a retired engineer and a taxpayer, I am concerned that we are being rushed into a decision without adequate discussion of the possible alternatives. Among these is a really serious consideration of rehabilitating the existing pool.

At a park board meeting in March, it was disclosed that the McDermott engineering firm estimated a new pool would cost about $750,000, but that rehabilitating the old pool would cost approximately $200,000. Four months later, further study by McDermott showed a new pool would cost $1,300,000 on a new site. This would give a clear edge to rehabilitating. However, by proposing a stainless steel liner and such items as replacing the brick window sills in the bathhouse with cut stone, Mr. McDermott found rehabilitating would now be $1,020,000 and again rival the cost of a new pool. I estimate a quarter-inch plate liner would require 100,000 pounds of stainless steel. At $5 per pound, this proposal would require $500,000 for material alone.

I have inspected the pool and bathhouse personally. I have also discussed these problems with retired consulting engineers and other active engineers who are also local residents and taxpayers. From these discussions I offer the following observations for consideration:

1. The present pool structure is sound and safe. This is a conclusion of the board's engineer and conceded by Mr. Sykes (George Sykes, park president). This is a basic point.

2. The walls of the pool are well designed and solid. It would probably take a major earthquake to damage them significantly.

3. The floor of the pool is designed in sections with caulked joints. The design allows the floor to accommodate itself to forces exerted by the soil, earthquakes, etc. Modern caulking materials applied with rigorous quality control should be able to seal these joints.

4. The existing bathhouse structure was well designed and is still solid. The upper deck and masonry are in excellent condition, indicating no structural settling or shifting. Some minor work is needed at a few places on the masonry of the lower level. The steel windows have suffered corrosion over the years but immediate replacement is not necessary.

5. If caulking every few years is concluded to be unacceptable by the board, the old pool bottom can be removed and a new continuous bottom installed at relatively modest cost. No forms are required and concrete and steel would cost on the order of $20,000. Labor, engineering and overhead would probably move the cost up to the vicinity of $150,000.

6. A sound reason for building a new pool would be to relieve overcrowding. But patronage at the pool is way down. There are now many private pools in the community, not to mention Paddlers. And people no longer come from St. Louis to use our pool. There is also growing competition from other popular activities such as tennis, jogging and golf. A new pool could very well be as under utilized as the ice rink or our school buildings. School age population has dropped from 15,000 to 9,000. This is the same age group that provides most of the patronage for the pool.

7. If a bond issue is approved for a new pool, it should include money for demolition of the old pool and bathhouse. If there is no money to maintain these structures for their present use, there will be no money to keep them from becoming eyesores in the park. We are still putting up with left over elements of the old sand bottom pool and the wooden bathhouse from the 1920's.

I have no doubts about the sincerity, integrity and good intentions of the board members and staff. I understand Mr. McDermott has a good reputation, but it should be noted that we engineers get our satisfaction in designing new things. There isn't much fun in repairs or maintenance.

For all these reasons I urge reconsideration of a conservative approach to retaining the existing pool. I feel there are good prospects of rehabilitating the present pool to excellent condition for a small fraction of the $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 amortized cost of a new pool. It means there might have to be some borrowing and that there would have to be some budget squeezing while the work is stretched out over a period of several years. But it also means that the taxpayers would be saved a new expenditure of $200,000 to $300,000 per year for a 10-year period and no bond issue would be necessary.

State suggests writing for some hunting forms

Because some hunting dates are set close to the beginning of the hunting season, persons who wish to hunt Department of Conservation controlled hunting areas may seek applications now, according to license and permit supervisor Jim Oliver.

Although the application forms for these permit areas won't be available until August, sportsmen may send in a request for the form now. It will be mailed out as soon as printed," Oliver said. "By sending their application, request soon, hunters know they will receive their form in plenty of time to apply for the area they wish to hunt."

Sportsmen planning to hunt at one of the eight controlled pheasant areas, the special youth pheasant hunt, the controlled duck hunt at Rice-Lake, or the controlled Canada Goose at Horseshoe Lake (southern Illinois) or Union County, are to specify which types of hunting applications they wish and send their request to Department of Conservation, Hunting Permit, 324 S. 2nd St., Springfield 62796.

Controlled pheasant hunting and a youth pheasant hunt will be conducted at Des Plaines Conservation

Area, Will County; Chain O'Lakes State Park, McHenry County; Eldon Hazlet State Park, Clinton County; Wayne Fitzgerald State Park, Franklin County; Richland County Controlled Pheasant Hunting Area, Olney; Moraine View State Park, McLean County; Green River Conservation Area, Lee County; and Croquis County Conservation Area, Beaverville.

Canada goose hunting will take place at Horseshoe Lake and the Union County Conservation Area. The Rice Lake fish and Wildlife Area will feature duck hunting.

Vandals paint names on street and store

About six vandals may have been responsible for painting the first names of 10 males in 12-inch block letters on the street at Johnson Road and Edgewood Avenue, police learned at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

Black and white spray paint was used to paint the names and also to block out two stop signs and a T-intersection sign at the same location. The latter also was repainted with a name across it.

The names visible were "Aaron, Ken, Doug, Dave, Jeff, John, Charley, Timmy, Paul and Corey," reports said.

The same names, plus two others, "Matt and Sean," also were painted on the rear of the Parkside Center located at Maryville Road and Parkway Avenue, officers learned.

A resident in the vicinity of Edgewood and Johnson reported seeing about six youths without shirts in the area early Sunday morning.

Police spoke with two youths, who agreed to try to get the help of some friends and clean off the paint. Neither youth admitted responsibility for the acts, it was noted.

Jim Melton, owner of the confectionary, advised police at 7 p.m. Sunday that he will allow those responsible to repaint the building without prosecution.

The same amnesty was not promised by police officers, however, who told the pair being interviewed to contact the detective division this morning to determine if further action is required.

efforts have helped your members, who are part of a family of over 47 million Americans, prepare for the future."

Williams' message was read to the credit union's board of directors at a celebration honoring the credit union's milestone on Sunday, July 8, at the Madison Memorial Center. A buffet dinner was served to credit union members and guests.

The credit union was organized in 1959 to serve the employees of the Terminal Railroad Association, whose officers are at 2016 Madison Ave. "We now serve 825 members and our total assets have grown to $1.1 million," said credit union Chairman William J. Oliver.

A: You've made significant progress already, you've admitted you have a problem. There is a method that will, if nothing else, heighten your awareness of where your money is going, and how much you're spending. And, that may be the impetus you need to create a budget and stay with it. The method is simply to keep track, for one month, of everything you spend. Everything. Keep a piece of paper or a small notepad in your pocket and mark down everything — from a candybar, to dinner, to a suit. Everything. Every penny. This will highlight relatively small expenditures that add up, and will give you good clues as to where you might begin to cut down. Many people who have done this simple exercise have been astounded at the amount spent over a month's time, and for what. And that usually starts the budget rolling!

Talbot Hall offers outpatient sessions

Beginning tonight Talbot Hall at St. Elizabeth Medical Center will offer an outpatient chemical dependency treatment program for persons who are physically and emotionally capable of functioning in their usual environment during the course of treatment.

The Intensive Outpatient Chemical Dependency Treatment Program offers qualified patients the chance to get treatment for their alcohol or drug dependency problem while maintaining their daily jobs and responsibilities.

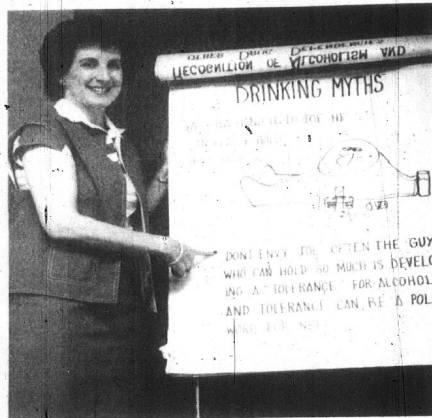

"We believe that if a person has some support systems intact, such as an involved employer and family, he can benefit from an outpatient program," said Della Kinsolving, executive director of Talbot Hall. "Willingness of family members to be supportive and involved in the individual's treatment makes outpatient treatment much more effective," she said.

The non-residential program covers a period of six weeks. Group sessions are held Mondays through Thursdays from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. The groups provide feedback from other patients about individual progress. The patient learns the application of the Alcoholics Anonymous program as a means of maintaining sobriety. Groups are facilitated by the program staff composed of Certified Alcoholism Counselors and other professional staff.

One-to-one interviews and conferences with family members, employers and other significant persons are held between 1 and 6:30 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays. Whenever possible, program interviews and activities are scheduled to accommodate the patient's work and other responsibilities. Interviews include evaluation and diagnosis, psychological evaluation and physical examination; clergy, employer and family interviews.

"We have a five-day intensive outpatient program for family members that goes hand-in-hand with the outpatient program," said Virginia Dellamano, outpatient and family program coordinator. She said the 40-hour program teaches people that alcoholism and chemical dependency are a family disease.

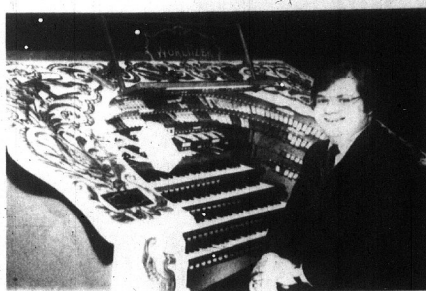

"Every alcoholic/chemically dependent person affects anyone from five to 20 people around them," she said. "We teach them that the pain they all share at the time of the patient's treatment can be used as a motivator for change."

Mrs. Dellamano said the five-day family program gives Talbot Hall an advantage over many treatment programs that don't have a similar method of helping family members. In addition, the program staff will conduct lecture groups dealing with the steps of AA, family recovery and intervention.

WRONG DRIVER NAMED

In a Thursday Press-Record article concerning three persons arrested at a Granite City housing complex, the paper named Carlton Turner as being the driver of a car that allegedly was driving in a reckless manner. The account should have said the driver of the car was Charles J. Ringling Jr.

JACK JENKINS of Granite City, seated at the Wurlitzer organ, will perform as guest organist for the 1927 silent movie classic, "It," starring Clara Bow, at 7 p.m. Monday, July 23, at the Fox Theatre, St. Louis. The local musician composed a 72-minute score to accompany the movie, based on the film's original theme. He also recently recorded an album of organ music.

Jack Jenkins to perform at Fox

Jack Jenkins of Granite City will be appearing as special guest organist at the Fox Theatre, St. Louis, at 7 p.m. Monday, July 23, it was announced this week.

Jenkins will be accompanying the screening of the 1927 classic silent movie, "It," starring the legendary actress Clara Bow.

The Fabulous Fox Tellorette dancers also will appear during the movie presentation.

Jenkins has composed a complete 72-minute score to accompany the action scenes in the vivacious and light-hearted movie, basing his work on the original 1927 "It" theme.

Clara Bow was tagged the "it" girl after appearing in the movie because of having an indefinable charm.

Jenkins is now employed as minister of youth and music at the Oakridge Baptist Church in St. Peters, Mo.

He will perform at the Fox on the giant four-manual Wurlitzer organ, one of only five of its type ever built.

The local musician recently recorded an album of organ music with organist Gerry Marlan. "The Fabulous Fox" album currently is available at the Fox Theatre's Byzantine bazaar, but shortly will be available at area stores, it was learned.

On the album, Jenkins performs "St. Louis Blues," "Suite For Swannee" and "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue." Among the numbers played by Marlan are "That's Entertainment," Medley from "Meet Me in St. Louis," "Taking A Chance on Love" and "Moonbeams."

Jenkins is a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in music education and organ performance. His style and technique are as varied as his career, which ranges from Sandy Fleets pizzeria (Organ Powers's San Diego operation) to St. Louis' St. Francis De Sales Church.

His musical background includes teaching, choir director and vocalist. He also plays piano, oboe and flute.

Last week, Jenkins attended the national convention of the American Theatre Organ Society in Indianapolis, where his new album was introduced. He also is a member of the American Guild of Organists.

Jenkins' other interests include collecting antiques and home restoration. In line with his hobbies, he also drives a restored 1935 Buick.

Arch helps those addicted to drugs, alcohol

(First in a series on agencies supported by the Tri-Cities Area United Way, Inc.)

John (not his real name) is a 31-year-old resident of ARCH. John's story is a "typical" one. He calmly spoke of losing his job, his family, and his self-respect to alcoholism. He was frank and sincere as he related the painful, hopeless existence of an uncontrolled alcoholic.

"It was a slow but sure process becoming dependent on alcohol. I couldn't see it happening to me, but I just went further and further down that road away from my family and friends and my job, until I finally realized it was a real life-or-death thing. I can't tell you how scary it is, being totally out of control of your life."

"By the time I was admitted to Talbot Hall, I'd about given up hope on pulling out of this. I'd go on the wagon, off the wagon. Now I'm dealing with one problem at a time, which I couldn't do before."

"Finally I feel like I've got a good shot at kicking this problem for good. I know it sounds silly, but I'm just realizing I'm an alcoholic. It's a disease and it can be treated. Being referred to ARCH was the best thing that ever happened to me."

ARCH

The Alcoholic Rehabilitation Community Home (ARCH Center) provides treatment and temporary residence for men recovering from alcohol or other drug dependencies.

According to Don Moyer, manager of the ARCH "house" and affiliated with St. Elizabeth's Medical Center Social Services Department, the center provides "a home and support for men who have lost their homes and families through their uncontrollable addictions; we provide the men with tools to return to society, free of chemical dependency, as self-functioning individuals." In its function as a halfway house, the ARCH Center recognizes the varied and complex nature of chemical addiction as a disease. Its causes and its consequences are physiological, psychological and social; as such, its treatment requires a multi-faceted approach. ARCH addresses each of these needs by offering group and individual therapy programs.

Attendance at Alcoholics Anonymous meetings is encouraged of each client with alcohol addiction. Narcotics Anonymous meetings are attended by those with primarily drug-related problems. Recognizing the beneficial effects of physical activity, ARCH also provides YMCA activity passes. Assistance in obtaining gainful employment and an aggressive After-Care program help insure continued chemical-free living.

None of these programs would be effective, however, without the "house" itself. The stable, chemical-free environment meets several primary needs of its clients, such as food and shelter, so that their larger and more complex problems may be addressed in a meaningful way. A sliding-scale fee structure is in effect, but inability to pay will not bar a client from ARCH residence. The maximum length of stay is six months, extensions are sometimes approved, but most clients are prepared by this time to function independently.

Janet Quanton, United Way executive director, is enthusiastic about ARCH. "The drug and alcohol problem in this area and in the country in general is a serious issue; along with preventive and educational efforts, it's imperative that we maintain a progressive, enlightened treatment program. This can be a costly proposition; however, the costs to the community of not meeting this growing need can be much, much greater in the long run," she said. ARCH provides an extremely valuable service to the community by offering a high-quality treatment program designed to assist the alcohol or drug addict in finding his way back to responsible, chemical-free living, she noted.

"When the client returns to society as an independent and productive person, both he and the community have benefited. ARCH provides a way for the troubled individual to be off the vicious cycle of chemical dependency. As a United Way member agency, ARCH exemplifies the motto, 'People Helping People'."

As an affiliate of St. Elizabeth's Medical Center, ARCH is one of only two such facilities in the Metro-East area. Its services are inadequate at this time to meet the growing client demand. Priority is given to applicants residing in Madison County, but the center is still unable to accommodate all requests for services, Moyer explained.

Further information may be obtained from Moyer at 877-4887 or by mail at: ARCH, 2049 State St., Granite City, Ill. 62040.

Playing politics with judiciary

By Michael Murphy
SPRINGFIELD — Among the more politically brazen issues left behind in the final days of the 1984 legislative session was a proposed remap of Illinois judicial districts — the first time, for some, since the turn of the century.

The bill's House co-sponsor, Rep. Aaron Jaffe, D-Sikeston, says the measure is not dead. Hearings will be held this summer, he says, and the issue is likely to be reconsidered this fall.

But Jaffe's intent was not altogether the same as some other lawmakers. He was among those who set out primarily to redraw only appeals court boundaries required by the Illinois Constitution, he says.

Aside from minor revisions, the configuration of circuit court districts have remained substantially unchanged since the late 1800s.

Although many Republicans disagree, Jaffe and other proponents of the reapportionment bill, S.1790, argued that the state constitution requires the four appellate court districts outside Cook County to include roughly the same population.

Due to population shifts over the last 20 years, Jaffe says, the 2nd Appellate Court District in northern Illinois now has 800,000 more inhabitants than the 5th District, which contains the 36 southernmost counties in the state.

"My feeling is, if we don't do it shortly, I would like to see a federal court suit filed to bring this about," warns Jaffe. "The fact of the matter was that the Republican districts became more Republican and the Democratic became more Democratic."

But any sort of redistricting, by its nature, tends to get the political juices flowing. What probably sealed the doom of the reapportionment measure, therefore, was attempts to use the constitution of appeals court redistricting to make major changes in circuit court boundaries as well.

The measure, for instance, attempted to create three new

News notes

A $5,000 reward has been offered for information about the abduction, beating and robbery of a St. Louis Post-Dispatch newspaper distributor who was dropped off in Mitchell after the ordeal and was hospitalized at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The Pulitzer Publishing Co. is offering the reward to try and catch the persons who beat and robbed John Kline, 56, who was abducted by an armed man from Riverview Boulevard near the Halls Ferry circle in St. Louis eight days ago.

The self-proclaimed "Army of God," which claimed credit for the August, 1982 abduction of Dr. and Mrs. Hector Zevallos, is in the news again as an unidentified man saying he represents that group claimed responsibility for a bombing earlier this month at a planned parenthood clinic in Annapolis, Md. The man told the Washington Times that the group "will send every abortion clinic to hell. The Army of God was thought to be only the three persons now in prison for the Zevallos kidnapping."

To stimulate international business growth in Illinois, the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs has made available the "Directory of Illinois Exporters," listing manufactured products offered for sale overseas by Illinois firms. It will be distributed initially to the department's four foreign offices and the foreign U.S. Commerce offices.

Illinois traffic fatalities for June totaled 126, a 5.9 percent increase over the same period of 1983, but still show a decrease for the first six months of 1984, according to provisional figures released by the Illinois Department of Transportation and the Illinois State Police.

Governor James R. Thompson has announced the State of Illinois will participate in the 30th anniversary of the United States "Food for Peace" program. To commemorate the anniversary, a U.S. flag ship loaded with soy-fortified corn meal from Illinois and dried dairy products from New York and Ohio departed from Norfolk, Virginia, July 10, destined for the African nation of Benin.

Even though the Illinois State Council on Nutrition will be abolished as of Sept. 30, the state-wide study of nutrition issues will still be conducted. The Illinois State Study of Nutrition issues will be conducted July 25 at the State Capital and Executive Mansion in Springfield. Tens of thousands of Illinois citizens will be required to eat more than 120 delegates from various nutrition, citizen and education groups and state agencies and universities.

Lawyers and judges in the state already were steamed about the appellate and single-county help. "I think you'll find judges are still reluctant to change, no matter how logical it is," says Jaffe.

But opposition hardened further when Democrats in both houses tried some politically creative map-making in circuits elsewhere in the state.

None of the boundary changes would have affected Chicago or Cook County. But House Democrats twice gave the remap proposal the same extended life accorded such high-visibility measures as the proposed Chicago World's Fair.

That's because — until the remap plan was sidetracked — redistricting was seen as a convenient bargaining point for House Speaker Michael Madigan and Senate President Phil Rock to exchange for the World's Fair help from a few downstate Democrats.

Some of those downstaters, the theory went, might be interested in running for judgeships if they were provided attractively structured districts.

Republicans dispute whether the Illinois Constitution requires periodic redistricting even for the appellate districts. But there clearly is no such constitutional mandate where judicial circuits are concerned. Says a Democratic staffer, "The only reason to reapportion the circuit court districts is the obvious one."

Rep. Timothy Johnson, R-Urbana, minority member of the House Judiciary Committee and a leading opponent of the measure, says Republicans mounted surprisingly weak opposition in the Senate where the bill passed by a 47-7 margin.

CUB ANNOUNCER

Caray hasn't missed much

By Nick Canepa

CHICAGO — Harry Caray's face has been held over for its 64th summer — to the great delight of thousands — and one look at it tells you that this is not a man who has patterned his life after Jack LaLanne.

This is a face that has rolled up a few streets, one that runs best when there is beer on the palate or a man on base. About a third of it is covered by a pair of glasses so huge that you half expect the guy to have a snorkel in his mouth. Yeah, this is quite a kisser.

And then there's the voice. Somebody sat on Harry Caray's voice when he was very young. Then they slapped it around. It was a battered voice. And when it got a little older, someone tied it to a horse and dragged it over a couple hundred acres of sagebrush. A Harry Caray sentence generally is followed by a cough that might clear a chow hall in a prison.

If you're from somewhere else, more than likely you've heard that voice. His tonsils belong to millions of listeners in Middle America. For 41 years, Caray has served as broadcaster for the St. Louis Cardinals (sweet to the bitter end), Oakland A's (ever-so-briefly), Chicago White Sox (stormy) and, of course, the beloved Chicago Cubs.

Caray is the Lou Gehrig of broadcasters. Listen up: In 41 years, he has not missed a day. Not a game. Not an inning. Not an at-bat. Nor has he missed a night. As noted above, Harry hasn't always arrived at the ballpark accompanied by a bongo player. "They may call me 'The Mayor of Rush Street,' a bon vivant and all that, but I've never missed a day. I've done about 7,000 games. Caray gumbled in an interview, "I know a lot of (bleep) milkshake drinkers who miss this and that — they're sick all the time — this hurts and that hurts and they go to rest homes."

"Maybe my sense of living's best. You only make this trip once, that's how I look at it. I enjoy life. I enjoy it a lot. I have two alimony payments a month to prove it."

And Harry has played with pain. He's gone hurting to the mike. "Yeah," he said, "but no matter how much I hurt, once the game starts the hurt goes away. Nine innings later it may come back, but once that red light goes on (in the booth), it's a different world."

Harry Caray, is above all else, a pro. He will trip. He will praise. He will question. He will answer. Still, his detractors call him the worst of homers.

When announcing from the Wrigley Field bleachers, he pulls off his shirt and leads choruses of "Take Me Out to the Ballgame." The crowd goes nuts. There is no body else like him in the business. Vin Scully is a three-piece suit. Harry Caray is hard hat and Dickies.

And he plays the fans like a trombone.

"Some writers refer to me as a homer," Caray snarled. "I'm such a (bleep) homer that every year my job's on the line. No SOB can buy me off in any way. The owners think I'm too critical. The players think I'm too critical. Managers think I'm too critical. I'm brutally honest, is what I am."

"It's very simple: I don't work for the Tribune Corporation (the Chicago Tribune owns the Cubs); I don't work for the Cubs — I work for the guy who just asked me for an autograph. I work for (bleep) people. Other guys don't have the guts to fire me. What should I care who owners, players and managers think? They don't buy the soap."

Caray insists that he doesn't get much heat from the athletes he criticizes. "Oh, I may (upset) the fringe players," Caray shrugged. "The good ballplayer knows when he's made a mistake. He's a pro — he's a bleeped ballplayer. The guy who gets squeamish and tries to fool people is the fringe guy who" isn't going to be around very long, anyway.

"Nah, try to be something you're not and a fan can smell you a million miles away. Some of these low-key guys try to become upbeat and fall flat on their faces. It's like me doing opera. Can you imagine me doing opera?"

H-O-L-L-E-Y C-O-W-W-W-W-W: "Here comes Beethoven!"

OK, so Beethoven wasn't into opera. Who cares? Could he hit the curve?

Holy Cow! The expression is Caray's trademark, and he saves it for special occasions. Like when the Cubs do something nice, which used to happen quite infrequently. But the "Holy Cows!" have picked up where the Cubs are sniffing the honey in the NL East. He claims it's an expression he picked up as a kid because he promised his mother he wouldn't swear. It is a promise that Harry frequently fails to fulfill.

It was 1944 in St. Louis, where he was born, raised and orphaned at 9, and Caray went to work doing St. Louis Cardinals' games. And that was it. His dream had come true.

It is well-documented now. His fling with the Cardinals ended following the 1969 season, when Cardinal owner Augie Busch reportedly discovered the real reason why Harry and Busch's daughter-in-law were spending so much time together. Said Harry: "I won't say I was fired. My contract wasn't renewed. It happens in this business."

But there were sweet times in St. Louis, where he flat-out owned the town, just as he now owns Chicago.

There's one famous story. It was a rainy November night in 1968, and Harry was in a hurry to get into the hotel. "It was 1 a.m. and the bars close at 1:30 in Missouri," Harry said. "A young kid ... just back from Vietnam that day ... he was driving a '56 Plymouth and knocked me 40 feet in the air." Caray's legs were shattered and there was thought of amputation. An institution almost died that night. But Harry was a bit too tough.

"No Busch flew me down to St. Petersburg (Fla.) to recuperate," Caray said. "I went to spring training on crutches. Then I went down to cages."

Then it was opening day, 1969. "There were 50,000 people there," he recalled. "I was introduced and people went crazy. I came on two canes. I walked out to the foul line and flipped one back over my shoulder. Just short of the mound I threw away the other one."

Standing ovation. And what do you think Harry yelled into the mike?

H-O-L-L-E-Y C-O-W-W-W-W-W.

Harry then waddled back to the dugout, where he ran into Bob Gibson, the Cardinals' great pitcher. Said Caray: "Gib asked me: 'Harry, what is this? I saw you walking without the canes a week ago.'"

"I told him, 'Gib, this is show biz.'"

And so it is. And was. It was the beginning of the end in St. Louis.

"I had to leave the town I loved," Caray concluded, hardly shedding a tear. "And I always thought the day would come when my last gasp — my last breath — would be: 'CARDINALS WIN! H-O-L-L-E-Y C-O-W-W-W-W-W.'"

But instead of a gold watch, I got a pink slip."

CF seeks help in 'shaking cans'

Volunteers are needed for a special event for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Aug. 16, 17 and 18.

"Shake Your Can" for CF is a fund-raising project where individuals and organizations and volunteers to stand at various locations with canisters for donations. Balloons, candy and literature about cystic fibrosis are given to the general public in return.

Foreign firms express interest in dam bidding

Representatives of contracting firms from the United States, Germany, Canada, Japan and Holland attended a recent pre-bid conference concerning the second phase of construction of the Alton Lock and Dam 26 replacement.

Members of the St. Louis Division of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers held the conference at the Lewis and Clark Restaurant in East Alton. Some 75 representatives of 35 contracting firms were briefed on the specifications of building the 1,200-by-110 foot lock.

The new lock will be located about 700 feet from the Illinois shoreline and will be connected to the dam gate by a new lock. The dam gate is currently under construction across the Mississippi.

The second phase of construction also includes a second cofferdam adjacent to the existing one. Cost of this phase of construction is estimated by Corps members at $100 million and is expected to take four years to complete.

During construction, a 350-foot-wide channel between the site and the Illinois shoreline will be open to one-way river traffic.

Deadline for bid submission is Aug. 7, and a contract is expected to be awarded by the end of September.

SPORTS Monday PRESS-RECORDA Sports Special*GCHS wrestling: 50 years of great traditionBy AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

What sport has the best win-loss record at Granite City High School?

The answer will probably fool you. Over the long haul, there is no doubt about it, it's wrestling.

If you ask the average sports fan here in the Quad-Cities, nine out of ten would probably answer "Soccer, by far," but they would be wrong. First off, soccer, while truly sensational, successful, doesn't have the win-loss record over as many years as has had the mat program.

Wrestling was started in the school year, 1933 and 1934, right in the deepest part of the Depression, according to Joe Lucido, the chief man furnishing information on the sport to the Press-Record and a substitute member on that first Warrior mat team.

Lucido headed up the Granite City Steel Company's Federal Employees' association for 25 years until his retirement last year. He succeeded Bill Williams who was, incidentally, a member of that initial '33-'34 Warriors' wrestling squad. When Williams left Granite City to accept an attractive offer from a credit union group in California, Lucido moved into the spot.

When my sophomore year (1933), I was a new drafting teacher over at the vocational building. His name was Robert English and he was fresh out of the University of Illinois. He was a Big Ten (Western Conference) wrestling champion for the Illini," he explained.

Lucido added: "The first day of school back there in September of 1933, English posted a notice on the main announcement board asking for all of us guys who were interested to sign up for a wrestling team that he was planning to organize. About 20 of us signed up and we started practices right off even though there wouldn't be any matches until that following spring.

Pleading that time had perhaps cost him a little loss of memory, Lucido ticked off the names of the wrestlers who tried out and made that first Granite City High mat team and giving, where possible the guys' weight divisions: Billy (115) Williams, deceased; Bill (135) Fea; Gene Bennet (not sure of his first name, either); Karl (155) Paschoff, Richie (95) Holzhausen, John (heavyweight) Dufner, Munz (125 or 130) Terrace, Ellwood (165) Holzschner, Tom (135) Kelso, deceased; Jerry Tratterler, Butch (120) Portell, Clarence (115) Aerne and Sonny Albers. Albers suffered a mat burn and the wound became infected and he died. It was before today's wonder drugs.

Says Lucido: "Mr. English was a good coach and worked us after classes and even on Saturdays and Sundays. I believe, time for which he was never paid. He was well liked and all the members of the team went all out for him."

"Iggy Holzschner was our first captain and Dufner, who with Iggy, were members of the line on the foot ball team, were elected captain of the '34 and '34 team," stated Lucido. Explaining that he was fearful of leaving out some members of that first squad, he added: "I believe that among the others making the team that first year were: Vi believe that among the others making the team that first year were: Herchel Crawford, Gene Emert, Bob Cease and Charles (Powerhouse) Turner."

Star of that first team, without a doubt, was the late John Dufner, who along with Iggy Holzschner, eventually were recruited by Don Faurot to play football down at Missouri University in Columbia."

Says Iggy, somewhat abashedly: "I just stayed one semester because I got homesick, but Dufner went on and earned his degree." Later, Iggy was persuaded by Len Davis to enroll at Alton's Shurtleff College where he starred in football for four years.

Digging into the wrestling team records and talking to long-time coach William (Red) Schmitt, it is found that Granite City High (and North too under Walt Whitaker) never had a losing season. The inaugural squad posted a 7-5 record.

In the seven years English coached, his teams won 54 matches, lost 22 and tied two.

Lawrence McCauley tutored the wrestlers in the 1940-41 season before becoming an officer in the United States Navy in WW II.

Don Kien directed the Warrior wrestlers for '41-'42 and posted a 5-2 record. Ted Seabrooke came on in 1942-43 and coached the Granite City grapplers through 1945 and racked up a 20-3-1 record.

Back out of service, McCauley returned to take over not only football and baseball but wrestling, too. He put together four undefeated wrestling seasons.

In 1950-51 William (Red) Schmitt took over the warrior wrestlers and has put together a truly sensational record, posting 55 victories, 64 losses and six ties.

Digging back into the past records, he disclosed that the initial GC team under English opened their 33-34 season (spring of '34) by losing to Wood River, 25-20, and East St. Louis, 27-10, but then ended that inaugural campaign with a 6-5 mark.

On his first squad, Schmitt said that Tom Carmoyle and Walt Wilson were outstanding. "On that squad, too, was a guy still around, Joe Fedora. Although he tried hard, Joe's main sport was baseball," said Red.

When pressed to name his most outstanding wrestler in his long career at Granite City High, the red head paused only a split second before ticking off a brilliant list of star wrestlers.

No. 1 listed was Jan Gitcho. "He was the AAU national champion at 126 pounds and was the star on the United States national team which toured Poland and Soviet Russia. He never lost a match on that European tour," Schmitt stated proudly. He added: "In Russia he defeated the world champion twice."

Sadly, Gitcho could well have ended up winning both the NCAA division II and I national crowns in his senior year at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville except for a foul-up by his coach and the school's athletic director, both of whom failed to "do the necessary paper work to permit him to wrestle in the meets."

High on Schmitt's list of outstanding wrestlers he's aided in Granite City are the Whelan brothers, Kris and Keith. After brilliant prep careers at Granite City High North both opted to wrestle down at Columbia, Mo., for the Mizou Tigers.

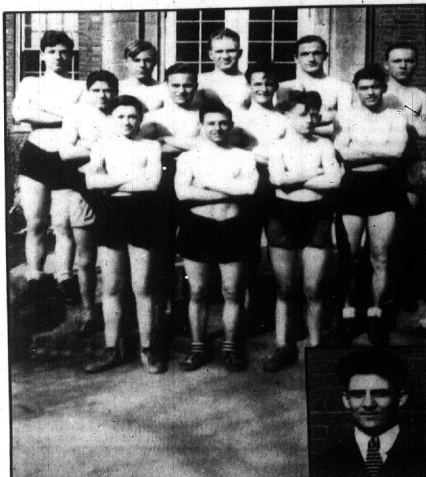

At Mizou, Kris won three national titles both in Greco-Roman and freestyle, said Schmitt, who added: "Kris was great."

Others he named were: Steve Cavanaugh, the Perkins brothers, Sam and Don, Rich Bledsoe, Bill Fuchs, Doug Wilson and Kevin Wilson.

State champions produced under Schmitt were: 1938—Bob Beyer, 135, 1940—Bill Havel, 125, 1945—Charles Merzian, 105; 1956—George Nemeth, 95, 1959—George Nemeth, 107, 1967—Rich Fuchs, 103; and 1969—Bob Miller, 103.

Coach Schmitt disclosed that he had lost both of his matches to a member of the Alton team.

"In '39, I lost to Tom Schilling in the sectional tournament 125-pound championship match and then in 1940 in a dual meet I lost to Bill Haven in the same weight class." Pausing, but beaming broadly, he said: "That year Haven won the Illinois state championship and I didn't feel too badly about my loss to him."

Inter-City Action*Chiefs win again; win fourth in a rowBy CHARLIE SKAER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The baseball season has definitely improved for coach Dennis Gurkin of the Granite City Chiefs. Not even Mother Nature would spoil his team's Sunday afternoon fun.

Despite a severe thunderstorm watch issued for the St. Louis area, the rain stayed south of the Granite City — much to Gurkin's delight. His team took advantage of the clear weather by sweeping the Maryville Red Sox in an Illinois Inter-City League double-header, 1-0 and 11-1.

IN OTHER Inter-City action, McDonald's split a double-header with East Alton. McDonald's took a 2-1 loss in the first game, but came from behind to score four runs in the seventh inning of the second game and win 5-3.

The Chiefs are riding high after four straight wins. Gurkin, however, remembers the times when things weren't going as well. "We were beating Cahokia 9-3 on Memorial Day weekend and got rained out," said Gurkin, "whose team lost 13 straight games before winning their first two games last week against the Metro Wildcats. "We were on our way to shelling them. That shows you how our luck had been going."

NOT ONLY has the Chiefs' luck improved, but so has the performance of their players. Dominic Griffin hurled a three-hitter for the Chiefs in the first outing, his second win in two weeks. Griffin went a full seven innings Sunday, his third start of the season.

"I've been using him wrong before," said Gurkin. "I've been having him catch the first game and then pitch in the second game. But it's humanly impossible to perform well when you're doing that."

For the past two Sundays, Griffin has been starting the first game. The switch seems to have paid off, as Griffin also had a 1-1 victory over Metro last week.

GRANITE CITY waited until the sixth inning to score the lone run of the first game. Rick Takmajian was hit by a pitch from hurler Brian Clawson to lead off the inning. Designated runner Ken Crawford went into the game and stole second. Catcher Jack Graham came in throwing, but second baseman Tony Kinsky failed to cover the base. When the throw went into center, Crawford advanced to third.

"One mental error like that is all it takes to cost you the ball game," complained Maryville coach Ray Hall. Robbins, a 11-1 cost you the game real quick."

Rick Buer drove in Crawford with a single, giving Granite City all it needed for the 1-0 win.

THE CHIEFS made up for their lack of runs in the first game by pounding pitcher Steve Blumner with six runs in the first inning. The Chiefs added two more in both the second and fourth innings. The game ended in the bottom of the fifth when Granite City scored a run to put the Chiefs ahead 11-1. Both coaches agreed before the game to have the 10-run rule in effect.

"That first game was anyone's, but we went out and dominated this second game," said Gurkin. "We're playing the way we're capable of. I hope we've turned it around — if not for this season, then we're building for next year."

GRANITE CITY made a main reason for the four straight wins has been the decline in the number of errors and an improvement in pitching. Hurter Durrly Elmore gave up just four hits for the 11-1 victory.

"I think we've had good ball players all year," said Gurkin. "But when you get down real bad, it's tough to come back. Now, maybe we can sneak up on some people." Tom Newton kept things hot for Granite City in the second contest by knocking two singles to drive in four runs. Art Williams drove in a pair of runs with a triple in the fourth inning, but was thrown out at the plate when he tried to stretch the hit into a home run. Sam Tate drove in the final run of the game with a single.

GRANITE CITY improved their record to 4-13, and will travel to Brooklyn next Sunday for a 1 p.m. double-header.

In action at East Alton, McDonald's Jim Vrenick hit a solo home run in the third inning for the team's only run of the game. The Royals came back to score one run in both the fourth and fifth to take a 2-1 win.

Keith Burton held East Alton to just five hits during his losing effort. McDonald's recorded seven hits during the contest off of winning pitcher Jerry Strepsen.

McDONALD'S seemed a likely candidate for two straight losses after they took a 3-1 deficit into the seventh inning, having just two hits during the first six innings.

But the bats came alive in the seventh. Vrenick led off with a single and Jeff Parker made it to first on an error. Jim Draper was loading the bases for Kevin Patterson.

MIKE ZUKAS hurried the 5-3 win for McDonald's, recording four strikeouts in the contest.

McDonald's record moved to 11-3. Next week they will take on the O'Fallon Merchants, who handed McDonald's two losses in a double-header June 17.

the form of a coach.

Former Olympic soccer player and soccer enthusiast, Ruben Mendoza is coaching the women's open division. His squad, incidentally, has 13 athletes from Granite City.

"These games are not just soccer amateur sports," and not just soccer — needed in Illinois," Mendoza said Friday. "I think this year, its first year, they're looking to create interest. I can see it getting better each year."

IN ADDITION to the obvious, giving youths another opportunity to compete, Mendoza sees other benefits to the Games as well.

"This can be an interim step for athletes before the Olympics. Right now there's really a gap between college and the Olympics. These games will give Olympic coaches, as well as college coaches, the opportunity to see a lot of talented kids at one time."

In addition to Mendoza, other Southern region coaches include Mike Moore, men's open division coach; Jim Stranz, scholastic men's coach; and Norman Seim, women's scholastic coach.

MOORE, incidentally, is a former Belleville Area College coach, and Stranz is currently Collinsville High coach. Another coach, Mark Voegtle of Granite City, is assisting Mendoza with the women's open division.

Members of the men's scholastic team from Granite City include Diana Takmajian, Maria Parra, Julie Macios, Angie Moore, Dawn Schwartz, Diana Wallace, Mary Furfur, JoAnn Macios, Nancy Modica, Tammy Wroten, Linda Kuberski, Alicia Melton, Michelle Stuart, Marta Mendoza Colleen Ryan and Michelle Williamson.

Local girls on the women's open team include: Laura James, Diana Voegtle, Pat Atkinson, Susan Buenger, Terry Schuler, Theresa Soellner, Chris Kessler, Nancy Jones, Kathy Juarez, Deanna Epps, Nancy McClew, Susan Schneke and Susan Bell.

IN THE men's category, Granite Cityans in the scholastic division include: Job Biasingame, Brent Cook, Greg Gobbie, Scott Grote, Mike Houston, Matt Sheridan Scott Blason and Dennis Gaudreault.

In the men's open division there are eight athletes from Granite City. They include Tony Segobiano, Rich Moore, Bill Hency, Barry Grote, Scott Vickers and Randy and Danny DeRousse.

All four teams begin action on Thursday, the first being the scholastic men's and the open women's. Both teams begin competition at 8 a.m.

The scholastic men meet the Blue and Gray team, while the women meet the Pioneer division.

THE TWO other Southern Region teams scholastic women and men's open — see action later in the day. The scholastic women meet North Shore at noon while the men's open division remain idle until 6 p.m.

The championship games are slated for 10 a.m. Sunday for all divisions but the women's scholastic division which begins at noon.

Defeat Highland

GC Juniors come from behind; win 6-4

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Junior Legion team ended a busy week on a winning note Sunday, as it defeated Highland, 6-4. Earlier in the week, they had posted a win and a loss.

On Friday, Granite City defeated Troy, 13-11. Saturday, however, they suffered their only loss in the three days as they fell to Edwardsville, 5-4.

In Sunday's game, Granite City was forced to come from behind twice. After giving up a run in the top of the second, they battled back in the third to tie the score at one apiece.

JAY VALBERT got the win for the home town team as he not only pitched a complete game, but also contributed with the game winning hit in the bottom of the sixth inning.

In the bottom of the sixth inning, after Tim Hogan grounded out, Jamie Hogan got the first inning started for Granite City with a triple to center field. Todd Hinterser drove in Hogan with a ground rule double that bounced over the right field fence.

Valbert singled past the shortstop and then hit a single to left. A walk to David Hamper loaded the bases for Granite City, but Rich Wilson struck out to end the inning.

HIGHLAND scored their second run of the game in the top of the fourth inning, but Granite City came back in the half of the inning to regain the lead 2-1.

Charlie Collins led off the inning for Granite City as he reached on a three base throwing error by the Highland third baseman. After a pop out to the pitcher, Tim Hogan grounded out scoring Collins. Jamie Hogan kept the inning alive for Granite City as he reached on a second error by the third baseman. Hinterser scored Hogan with a triple down the right field line. Scott LeVault drove Hinterser home with a double to make the score 4-2.

HIGHLAND scored runs in the fifth and sixth innings to tie the score at four going into the bottom of the sixth.

Tim Hogan led the inning off with a line drive single into left. Hinterser reached on a error by the third baseman, but Hogan was forced to stay at second.

After two men were out in the sixth, Valbert sent a single up the middle to score both Granite City runners and regain the lead. The lead held in the top through the seventh to give Granite City the win. "We got a break on that error by the third baseman," said Granite City coach Paul Kacera after his team's ninth victory of the season.

"THAT was really a key hit that Jay Valbert had in the sixth too. His hitting has been hot and cold, but I think he's been hitting about .329." One problem that Kacera did see was a lack of hitting from the lower half of the batting order.

"The bottom half of the batting order isn't hitting at all right now," said Kacera. "Naturally the upper half of the batting order is going to get more hits. But, we've been hitting well as a team the last couple of games until today."

Granite City's next game is tonight at Van Preter Park in Wood River. The game is scheduled for 6 p.m.

'Missed opportunities' mean doom in Mitchell's loss to Edwardsville

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — In a game that Coach Larry Gray termed "a game of missed opportunities," the Mitchell Athletic Club Junior Legion team dropped its fifth game of the season, Saturday to the Edwardsville Post 129 team, by the score of 6-3.

"We really missed a lot of opportunities to score," said Gray. "One inning we had the first two men on and couldn't score. Another time we didn't have the runner tagging at third when he could have scored."

"But overall, they played pretty well. Anytime you come to Edwardsville and only lose by one run, you've done pretty well," Gray added.

THE LOSS on Saturday followed a victory over Waterloo on Friday. In a game that Mitchell was almost forced to forfeit because of a late arriving player, Tim Gray pitched a six-hit shutout to get the victory.

"They played outstanding," said Mitchell coach Mike Garner. "That's the best they've ever played."

Free Becker deli the big blow in the game for Mitchell as he delivered with a double to drive in the winning run.

It looked as if Mitchell was going to chalk up another win when it took the field in Edwardsville. In the first inning they scored three runs on four hits to grab an early lead.

AFTER BECKER grounded out, Billy Moore hit a double into left-center field to get the inning started. Greg Ehlers delivered an RBI single to score Moore. Ehlers took second on the throw to the plate.

In the second inning, Ehlers home with an RBI single. Nemeth stole second and went to third on an error by the Edwardsville catcher. Tim Gray delivered the fourth hit of the inning to score Nemeth.

Mitchell's lead was short lived, however, as Edwardsville came back in the second inning to tie the score. The big blow of the inning came off the bat of center fielder Mike Lowery. Lowery tributed with several key defensive plays.

"THE center fielder made the whole difference in the game," said Mitchell coach Mike Garner. "Edwardsville took the lead 5-3 in the bottom of the third as they scored two. Both runs scored on a home run by Pat Lewis that cleared

Mitchell came back to tie the score in the fourth after the first two men had struck out.

Jeff Zukas became the first Mitchell base runner of the inning as he reached on a single to left field. Becker drove him home with a bloop double to center. Becker was then able to score as Moore walked and got into a run down between first and second.

Mitchell failed to score in the remaining three innings. However, they were not able to keep Edwardsville from scoring as they added a run in their half of the fourth to seal the victory.

Triplets go 1-2 in weekend action

COLLINSVILLE — With the American Legion District 22 baseball playoffs approaching, Granite City Legion Manager Dave Coakley has been happy with his team's defense, and Tri-City's 5-0 win over Collinsville Post 365 Saturday at Fletcher Field was a case in point.

Tri-City pitcher Allen Zantgraf limited Collinsville to six hits, and he and his defense came through in the tight spots to keep Post 365 off of the scoreboard. In fact, it was the first shutout of the year for Granite City.

"We've been shut out this year, but we finally got one," Coakley said. "We did back up the pitcher when we had to, and he had a pretty good game."

GRANITE CITY, third in the District 22 North Division, improved to 11-10 in the league, while Collinsville lost its third straight in failing to 7-14 in the district.

The Triplets, however, were not as fortunate Friday against East St. Louis and later Saturday against Cahokia as they dropped both games by a total of three runs.

The local hurlers fell to East Side 1-0 on Friday and then to Cahokia 4-2 on Saturday.

Against Collinsville, Tri-City got the only run it needed in the first inning off Collinsville starter-poser Dale Kuechle. Kuechle retired the first two batters before Art Williams ripped a double to the left field corner. Pat Cathey followed with a run-scoring single to right, and Granite City was never headed.

THE GAME became a pitchers' duel for the next four innings, with Kuechle using his live fastball to fan nine batters in the first five innings. Zantgraf, meanwhile, held Collinsville in check until Granite City erupted for three runs on just one hit in the sixth.

Kuechle's trouble started when he walked Keith Coakley with one out. Coakley stole second, and after Kuechle retired Williams for the second out, Cathey walked to keep the rally alive.

With runners at first and second, Terry Rajawitz singled to left field to score Coakley and send Cathey to second. The two runners stole second and third and scored on two wild pitches.

THE FINAL run came in the seventh, when Shane Cole singled, stole second and scored on a base hit by Gerald Booker. Although Kuechle struck out 10 and gave up just six hits, he was bothered by five walks and Collinsville's inability to turn scoring threats into runs.

Post 365 had runners in scoring position with two outs in the second, fourth and sixth innings but could not get the clutch hit to tie the game or take the lead.

In the fourth, Duane Burress and Paul Bilyeu singled, and the two runners advanced to second and third on a wild pickoff attempt by Zantgraf, but Les Hall struck out to end the inning.

ZANTGRAF retired the first two batters in the sixth before singles by Don Peek and Burress and a walk to Bilyeu loaded the bases. This time Zantgraf got Hall to ground out to end the rally.

Zantgraf struck out six Collinsville batters and walked just two. He set Post 365 down in order three times, including the first inning, when he picked Kuechle off first base after the Collinsville pitcher had singled to center.

Solid pitching and defense is just what Coakley wanted to see as the regular season winds down, but he does have some concerns.

"We've been playing pretty good ball, but we need to hit a little better," Coakley said. "If we start hitting and keep everybody healthy, we can play with anybody in the division."

There may be more apparent than even Coakley realized, as four members of the team were selected to the District 22 All Star Team. Tri-City All Stars include Keith Coakley, Sam Tate, Art Williams and Jerry Booker.

Area officials see little change resulting from new law

Representatives of Quad-City Area governments think there will be few if any changes as a result of the Illinois Freedom of Information Act that took effect earlier this month.

The law is designed to increase public accessibility to governmental records and documents. It requires each public body to display at its administrative office, a description of the methods the public must use to obtain documents, fees to be charged for reproducing material and a description of the public body, including a summary of its purpose, its budget, office locations, number of employees and names of members of advisory boards and commissions.

ROBERT W. STEVENS, Granite City clerk, said he thinks, if anything, the law will make the procedure of obtaining documents a "little more regimented."

He said that there have been few instances where citizens have asked to see documents. "Occasionally a citizen came in wanting to see an ordinance," he said. "But if they wanted a copy, we made them one. I don't anticipate any problems with the new law."

Stevens said that all of the city department heads have been informed of the new law and supplied with copies of the act and applications, which are used for obtaining documents.

JOHN BELLCOFF, Madison city clerk, agreed that the law will have little effect on his duties. "Most of the people wanting copies are reporters, but once in a while, a citizen has made a request," he said. "I see no problem with this law. I've never hid from anybody."

Venice City Comptroller Roseann Koelker said in the eight years she has worked for the city, a citizen has never asked to see an ordinance or other governmental record. "I don't think the passage of this law will cause any big rush to see documents now," she said. "I can't see how it will affect us."

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles also said she sees few changes as a result of the law. "We have so many records, we don't even give it a second thought when somebody comes in and asks for something," Miss Bowles said.

SHE CALLED the new law "a tempest in a teapot" and said it could be used to inhibit access because of the seven-day rule. (Government officials have seven working days after the filing to either produce the information, deny the request or say they need an extension to produce the information.) She said many people who want information from other offices will probably go there first without bothering with the formal process of first going to the clerk's office and filling out an application, then being routed to the individual department. The county clerk said there was a general meeting of all departments to prepare for the new law. Department heads had input into the rules of the procedure that were approved by the county board.

ONE THING that will change as a result of the new law is the cost of getting copies of documents from Madison County.

Miss Bowles said in the past, her office charged 50 cents for each page copied. That charge is now 10 cents, since the law allows governmental bodies to charge only the cost of the material and equipment needed, and not the time of the employee who does the work.

There is an extra cost for certifying documents.

SHE SAID SHE arranged for a representative of the secretary of state's office to conduct a seminar last month at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on implementation of the new law. About 125 people from the governmental bodies in Madison County and surrounding counties attended.

World of flight on display at McDonnell Douglas

A look into the world of flight is available at the McDonnell Douglas Prologue Room, an aerospace exhibit that draws thousands of visitors each summer. The exhibit is open to the public Mondays through Saturdays through Aug. 31, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Prologue Room is in the company's World Headquarters building at McDonnell Boulevard and Airport Road, adjacent to Lambert-St. Louis International Airport.

The 64-year history of McDonnell Douglas, and milestones of the development of aviation as well, is highlighted by the exhibit. McDonnell Douglas officials say the room is a panoramic story of McDonnell Douglas and its products from the company's earliest biplane to its latest aircraft, the AV-8B Harrier II—a jet airplane able to take off and land vertically.

Scale models, dioramas, paintings and photographs depict such important events in aviation history as the first flight around the world in 1924, the first takeoff of a jet fighter from a U.S. Navy carrier in 1946, and the first aircraft to land at the South Pole in 1956.

Separate displays tell the story of the company's part in the development of commercial and military aircraft. They feature models of F-15 Eagle and F/A-18 Hornet fighter aircraft, DC-9 and DC-10 jetliners and formations of F-4 and A-4 jet fighters.

The centerpiece of the exhibit contains full-size engineering mock-ups of the Mercury and Gemini Spacecraft that carried America's first astronauts into space. Visitors also may see models of McDonnell Douglas rockets and missiles designed for Military use and space exploration.

The exhibit contains a collection of original aviation art by company artists, including several oil paintings by Douglas engineer-artist R. G. Smith, whose work is also displayed in the National Air and Space Museum in Washington, D.C.

Reservations are not required, but groups of 20 or more are asked to make arrangements at least three days in advance by calling 1-314-232-5421.

SAVE ME, BOGEY! In the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Theater Production of "Play It Again, Sam," Tom Clear, St. Louis, stares in terror while the outraged husband Dick, played by John Conge, Belleville, prepares to plunge a knife in his chest. Witnesses to the crime of passion are Theresa Donohoe of St. Louis as Linda and Kevin Beyer of Wahoo, Neb., as the steely-eyed Bogey. The Woody Allen comedy will be staged in the university's Communication Building Theater July 19 to 21 at 8:15 p.m. and on July 22 at 7 p.m. (SUE Photo)

SUE presents 'Play It Again, Sam'

Woody Allen's fantasy comedy "Play It Again, Sam" is the next presentation of Summer Stage '84 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The play opens Thursday, July 19, with an 8:15 p.m. curtain.

The run continues on July 20 and 21, same time, with a final performance on Sunday, July 22, at 7 p.m. All performances are in the university's Communications Building theater.

"PLAY IT AGAIN, Sam" offers the romantic fantasies of a hapless

New York film critic, Alan Felix, who evokes the ghost of Humphrey Bogart in his quest for a successful love affair. Tom Clear, of St. Louis, has the lead role, created by Allen for himself both on stage and film.

Clear is returning to acting after a long stint of directing musicals at the Good Times Dinner Theatre. He has played classical and jazz piano at a number of nightspots in the Central West End of St. Louis. His most recent engagements were at The Royal Duppel downtown.

KEVIN BEYER, of Wahoo, Neb.,

plays the ghost of Bogey, offering advice and ironic comments. Beyer is a Bogart look and sound-alike, catching the legendary star's attitudes toward how to handle women.

Supporting players are Rebecca K. Williams as Nancy, with John Cange and Theresa Donohoe as Dick and Linda Christie. Three actresses have dual roles. Kitty Garder is both the Dream Sharon and the Intellectual Girl. Karen Fischer is Sharon Lake and Vanessa and Kathleen Carberry plays the Dancing Girl and Barbara. Ann Long is Gina.

William J. Grivna, director of performance in SUE's department of theater and dance, is the director. Sets are by David J. Sill, who has designed a non-realistic set around a group of oversized Bogart posters, and he is also handling the lighting. John Pagan is the costumer.

FREE PARKING behind the Communications Building is available on nights of performance. Ticket and reservation information is available at 1-692-2773. Tickets are priced at $4.50, $4.75 and $2.50. Group rates are available.

SIUE approves FY '84 RAMP guidelines

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has approved guidelines necessary for development of the 1986 Fiscal Year Resource Allocation and Management Program (RAMP) for submission to the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE).

The guidelines include six percent increases for salaries and prizes based on inflationary factors. They specify the funding levels for operation and maintenance of new space at the School of Medicine, for the reduction of space at SIUE at Edwardsville, and for new and expanded and improved program requests and other special items.

IN ADDITION, the guidelines identify the details of a salary catch-up plan for university employees. For the first time, differential percentages within groups of employees and among the components of the system are recommended, ranging from four to 10 percent. Officials explained that the recommendations are based on a review of the salary levels of each group of employees—faculty, professional staff, civil service range employees, and RAMP-defined administrators—against the levels of comparable employees, differentiating as appropriate among the two universities, the School of Medicine, and the Office of the Chancellor.

Two reduction factors are being considered in addition to the budget guidelines. The raising of six tract houses will result in a base budget reduction of $56,327 for non-personnel maintenance costs at SIUE at Edwardsville. This is the final year of a four-year phased reduction of the School of Medicine base budget. The $225,000 annual reduction result from the decision to reduce enrollments in publicly financed schools of medicine in Illinois.

The recommended guidelines will produce budget requests for new operating funds for SIUE of $19 million, or 15.5 percent, for SIUE of $6.8 million, or 13.4 percent, and the Office of the Chancellor of $136 thousand, or 9.7 percent, for a System total of $26 million, or nearly 15 percent.

THE REQUESTS and budget guidelines include: 3.75 percent increases for new programs, expanded/improved programs and other special needs; six percent for general program increases; 10 percent for library materials; 24 percent for telecommunications and the following increases for utilities: 9 percent for SIUE, 7.7 percent for SIUE and 15 percent for the School of Medicine.

The final RAMP request for the SIUE System is expected to be submitted to the Board for approval at the September meeting of the trustees. The Carbondale, Ill., is scheduled for presentation to the IBHE on Oct. 1.

New dental medicine facility is planned

Gov. James Thompson has released $311,700 in planning funds for a new clinical facility at the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine at Alton.

President Earl Lazerson of SIUE at Edwardsville said the $3.2 million project will provide the long-sought permanent facilities, needed since the Dental School was opened on the former campus of Shurtleff College in 1972.

PLANNING is expected to be initiated this summer by the architectural firm of Graham, Anderson, Probst and White, Chicago, architects recommended to the Illinois Capital Development Board by the SIUE Board of Trustees for the project.

Legislation approving $3,182,200 for the new clinic building was included in the General Assembly's 1983 capital funding bill through an amendment sponsored by Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton. The legislation was approved by Gov. Thompson and Rep. McPike President Lazerson said. "We are extremely fortunate in the State of Illinois to have leaders who understand the need for dental health care in the central and southern part of the state. The School of Dental Medicine was established because of a demonstrated need for such care in this region, and the governor and Rep. McPike have stood behind us in our efforts to fulfill this mission. We cannot thank them enough."

The new facility is to house clinics and clinical support areas, providing a total of 72 dental operatories. It will replace the present barracks type building constructed in 1940 and remodeled in 1971 for the opening of the school for dental in 1972. The first class of dentists was graduated in 1975.

LAST YEAR, while explaining his amendment to the capital funding bill, Rep. McPike said, "It would be extremely harmful to everyone in Southern Illinois if the SIUE school were to close. Once you make a financial commitment, you pretty much insure its future. You don't invest money in an institution you intend to close down."

SIUE proposes new MBA program

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has informed the Illinois Board of Higher Education of its intent to offer courses leading to the Master of Business Administration (MBA) degree at Rend Lake Community College near Ina.

The board received the information at its July meeting, at Northern Illinois University at DeKalb. UNIVERSITY officials said the program would serve employed adults wishing to improve career development and promotion opportunities.

The basic MBA degree program consists of 48 quarter hours, including more courses in accounting, finance, production, management, marketing, and economics. Prerequisite courses would be available to students who do not have sufficient educational preparation for the program, university officials said. The university proposes to offer the program in a weekend format currently used at other off-campus sites. The curriculum, admissions criteria, retention standards, and graduation requirements would be similar to those employed on campus.

ACCORDING to information presented to the IBHE, classes would be taught by full-time faculty, who would also be available for student advising on a regular basis.

In addition, the university would maintain an office at the community college staffed by SIUE personnel responsible for the dissemination of information, registration and maintenance of student records.

The projected enrollment for the first year of operation is 40 students.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED

Often the question arises as to whether or not an insurance company may refuse to pay out under an insurance policy where the person who was insured gave false information on his original application for insurance. The Illinois Insurance Code provides that if the misrepresentation on the application was intended to deceive the company or if the misrepresentation was "material to the risk," then the insurance company can refuse to settle a claim. The test for whether or not the false statement was "material to the risk" is whether the company would have issued the policy had they known the true facts of the application. answered "no" to this question. When the insured died as a result of this rare condition, the company refused to pay any life insurance benefits. The Court in this case noted that an insurance company cannot expect an insured to disclose information concerning his health which was beyond the understanding of the ordinary layman. However, the Court in this case decided that the company could cancel the contract and refuse to pay any benefits since the insured told the examining doctor that he had no blood disorder when in fact he knew he did. The Court felt that this showed a lack of good faith on the part of the insured.

It should be noted that there is a provision in the Illinois Insurance Code which attempts to protect applicants from having to battle insurance companies over contested claims. This provides that when an insurance company refuses to pay an insured without reasonable cause, the Court may allow the insured to recover Court costs, reasonable attorney's fees and additional damages to be assessed by the Court.

In conclusion, it should be apparent that it is important for an applicant for health or life insurance to be detailed and thorough with the information given to the company. Some companies at the time a claim is submitted go back and look for misrepresentations on the original policy in an attempt to cancel the policy and thereby avoid payment to the insured.

County zoning board makes recommendations

Members of the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will make the following recommendations to the county board at their monthly meeting Wednesday.

The zoning board is recommending the approval of a petition from Udel and Lorraine Bischoff, who have requested the rezoning of a five-acre tract of land from an agricultural district to an limited manufacturing district. The Bischoffs plan to use the land to build, store, repair and service heavy vehicles. The land is located along Route 162 next to Carter Lumber Company in Nameeki Township.

Also endorsed is the petition of Maureen Johnson, 2024 Hildebrand Ave., Cloverleaf Addition, who has requested a special use permit to continue the placement of a single wide mobile home on her residence. The special use permit specifies that the permit can not exceed a five-year time period.

The zoning board also recommends approval of a petition from Clyde A. Switzer and Mrs. Robert McMillan of 3302 Harvard Place, State Park Place, who are seeking a special use permit to place a mobile home on the property for a period not to exceed five years.

The zoning board recommended denial of a petition submitted by Debra Heil, who requested a variance and special use permit to come within five feet of the property line for the construction of an attached garage. The residence is in Windy Meadows Subdivision, along St. Thomas Road.

Also endorsed is the petition of Nick C. Trevasi, 20 of 2645 E. 27th St., charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and illegal transportation of alcohol Thursday night after his car allegedly ran into Harold's Restaurant, 27th Street and Madison Avenue.

When officers arrived at Hardee's, Trevasi was awakened and appeared extremely intoxicated. Police officials said he could not stand without weaving and had a strong smell of alcohol on his breath. There were several empty beer bottles in the car, and one was in an open cold bottle of beer on the seat.

Trevasi agreed to take a breathalyzer test and the reading showed 19 officers said.

VENICE HOME BURGLARIZED
Venice police are investigating a Thursday morning break-in and burglary at the Craig Brown residence, 354 Weaver St. Police reports state that the burglary was reported by a neighbor.

Upon arrival, police found the screen on the back door had been cut, but entry had been gained by smashing a front window. Blood was found on a piece of broken glass, which was taken for evidence.

Neighbors told police that Brown was out of town and that two men had been seen knocking on doors in the area.

Missing from the residence were a 25-inch color console television and a large portable radio.

MONEY ORDERS TAKEN
Sgt. Phillips of 300 Klein St., Venice, told police he would consult the Madison County state's attorney concerning the cashing of two money orders totaling $12, which allegedly had been stolen in May from her ex-husband. She told police she had evidence that the checks had been cashed and knew who had cashed them.

The driver of the second car, Linda Menez, 30 of 32 Briarwood Drive, told police she was northbound on Nameeki Road, attempting to turn left onto Pontoon Road, when her car and with Miss Van's car, which was southbound on Nameeki Road, collided. Mrs. Menez was charged with failure to yield at an intersection.

MESD to consider higher sewer rate

The Metro-East Sanitary District Board expects to make a decision about raising rates for customers served by the Lansdowne treatment plant during one of two meetings this week. The MESD board meets Tuesday and Friday at 9 a.m.

Board President and Executive Director Walter "Shang" Great-house has recommended that the board raise the rates from the current rate of $1.36 per month to $6 per month. Customers also would be billed every two months, instead of quarterly, as now is the case.

Engineering studies submitted to the board indicate that a rate of $6 per month would raise the $1.5 million the district needs to tie into a regional treatment system in two years. The additional $4 million cost of such a move would come from a state grant.

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has told the MESD that the Lansdowne treatment plant is inadequate, and a merge with a regional treatment system was one alternative offered to the board. The alternative, upgrading the Lansdowne plant to provide secondary sewage treatment, would be more expensive than joining the regional sewers and having treatment done at Granite City's modern treatment plant.

'A Little Night Music' opens this weekend

Summerstage, Inc., will present "A Little Night Music" in the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave., Friday through Sunday, July 20 to 22. Summerstage, a local summer theatre company, presented "The Music Man" last year.

The story of this year's musical revolves around a lawyer, Fredrick Eggerman (played by Ron Pennell), and Desiree Armfield, a famous actress (Beverly Scroggins), as they try to rekindle their love affair after 17 years. Also involved is Anne (Beth McNeilly) Fredrick's childish wife in name only, his son, Henrik (Randy Dunn), and Desiree's daughter, Fredrika (Melissa Pennell).

Comical complications occur when Count Malcolm (Dan Hunicutt), Desiree's jealous admirer and his wife, Charlotte (Gail Mueller), arrive uninvited to a weekend in the country at Madame Armfield's (Rogera Melford) chateau. Petra, a fiery maid played by Diane Wingenter and Frid the butler, played by Jim Fensterman, complete the cast of players in this romantic comedy.

There are two unique features of this production. The first is the singing group called the Liebeslieder Singers, who take the place of a chorus and sing some of the most beautiful music in the show as the Liebeslieder boast well known local singers June Branding, Cathy Butler, Bruce Holt, Deborah Popovchak and Dan Vizer. Also, the play has a costumed stage crew who not only change the scenery, but enter into the action show as servants in the household.

The most famous song from this show is "Send in the Flowers." "A Little Night Music" is directed by John Melford. Musical direction is by Rogera Melford and Dan Vizer. Choreography is by Margaret Pennell.

Tickets will be on sale at the door. For additional information, interested persons may call 877-2228.

FINAL REHEARSALS for this weekend's Summer stage production of "A Little Night Music" are underway. Shown are Count Malcolm (played by Dan Hunicutt) flitting with Desiree (Beverly Scroggins) while his angry wife (Gail Mueller) tries to restrain him.

Park board considers referendum for new pool swimming

By DONNA KIMBRO

Granite City Park District commissioners agreed at their regular meeting last week to proceed with plans to build a new pool as a result of public opinion poll and the need to replace the outdated 45-year-old facility that presently is draining funds for temporary repairs.

The first step in procedure will be to have legal papers prepared by the park district attorney for the referendum to be placed on the November ballot so all residents will have an opportunity to vote either for or against the proposal.

Park board members will select a final site where the pool will be built, if the public agrees to the plan, and then hire an architect to prepare plans, specifications and blueprints for the construction project.

Before any final arrangements are made, the board will wait for a report from Matt Melucci of Edwardsville, a financial consultant who has been hired to investigate possible state or federal grants that may be available to the park district to subsidize the funds of the district and help finance the new pool.

Since all ideas and proposals are in a tentative stage, President George Sykes called for a planning meeting tonight at 7 o'clock at the park office to specifically discuss the new swimming pool.

A public hearing on the park district's proposed budget was opened at 10 p.m. with no residents attending.

The board members went into session at 7 p.m. and expressed grave concern in relation to the budget, since they do not expect any tax monies to be distributed before November. Because of the situation, members agreed the park district still has severe anticipation of tax monies, hopefully for 9 percent, until the tax money is received.

Apparently, part of the problem stems from 13 townships who have not turned in their assessment books and, therefore, the tax bills will not be mailed in time to distribute monies to governing bodies at the anticipated time.

Park board members voiced the tentative appropriations, noting a possible $15,000 deficit and will again study the financial statement, seeking further reductions before final adoption is made, Sykes said.

Approval was granted to have a Carlisle system roof installed at the Harold Brown Recreation Center and repairs made to the flat portion of the ice rink roof. However, the members referred an authorization letter for roof repairs to the attorney for his approval before proceeding.

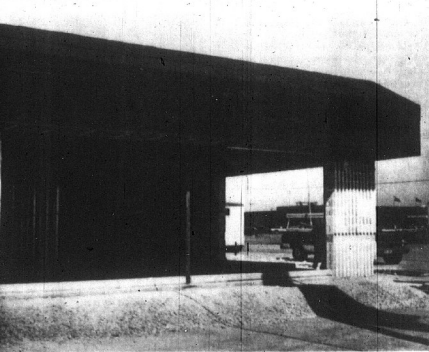

The Royal Insurance Co. has agreed to repair all roofs in the park district that were damaged by a recent storm, but will pay Lakeside Roofing Co., instead of depositing the funds with the park district, which will, in turn, pay the contractor.

Approval was given to the Friends of Library to hold a book sale in the ice rink Aug. 24 and 25 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The fund-raising project also will feature a bake sale and craft exhibit with non-profit organizations participating.

Action on a disciplinary action policy for employees of the district was tabled until a later date.

The meeting recessed until 7 p.m. today for the planning meeting on the swimming pool. The next regular board meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, July 25, at 7 p.m.

FOR YOUR EYES ONLY. The construction of this building in front of the American Village Shopping Center on Nameoki Road has sparked much speculation about what it is going to be. For the record, the new building is the future site of a Pearl Vision Center, the first in the Quad-City area and the third in the Madison-St. Clair counties area. Some of the speculation was about a possible White Castle fast-food outlet, according to a construction worker at the building site.

This new concept will be named Glik's for Guys and plans call for opening future store in locations adjacent to Glik Limited Stores.

The Glik Company is independently owned and operates nine Glik's junior department stores in Illinois and three Glik's Limited stores, with a fourth Glik's Limited scheduled to open at Crestwood Plaza in late August.

Parents call recovery of child 'miraculous'

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH

Kim and Ann Ebersoldt of Granite City are calling the recovery of their daughter, Kimberly, a "miracle."

When Kim was involved in an auto accident on Jan. 14 of this year, the doctors gave the Ebersoldts little hope that their daughter would survive, much less recovery her mental and most of her physical capabilities.

"When the paramedics arrived, Kim had no heart beat, both of her lungs had been punctured and she had a serious head injury," said Ebersoldt. "If the paramedics hadn't gotten to the scene in time, she wouldn't have even made it to the hospital."

Ebersoldt said when he arrived at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, he was told that the priest had given his daughter the last rites. "The doctor came out and said 'She'll never make it here' and they transferred her to Firmin Desloge Hospital."

Ebersoldt said he wasn't able to see his daughter until the next morning and he was stunned when he saw her. "They try to prepare you for it, but there's no way," he said. "She was on a respirator, had a feeding tube, her arm was in a cast—you couldn't even walk in the room, she was hooked up to so many machines."

Ebersoldt said Kim remained in a coma for five weeks. A week after she awoke, she was transferred to St. Mary on the Mount Hospital in Clayton. "I don't know how we would have made it through those first weeks if it hadn't been for our family and friends," he said. "Kim received cards and letters from people she didn't even know. Some even sent money to help pay for her medical expenses. We're really grateful to those people."

Mrs. Ebersoldt said the first real breakthrough in Kim's recovery came on April 11, when she started to talk. "It was a low whisper, but she was talking," she said. "And it wasn't just words. She was speaking in full sentences."

Since that time, Kim has been working not only on her speech, but her physical abilities too. "She has physical impairments similar to a stroke victim," said Ebersoldt.

MOTORCYCLIST, PASSENGER HURT ON NAMEOKI ROAD

Norman A. Sanders, 35, of Rural Route Two, Box 1188A, Granite City, was injured and taken by city ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center after the motorcycle he was operating collided with an auto in the 3700 block of Nameoki Road at 12:15 a.m. Sunday.

Anthony D. Watson, 17, of 115 Lenox Ave., Mitchell, a passenger on the cycle, also sustained an injury.

Sanders' machine was heading south on Nameoki Road when it collided with an auto operated by Everett P. Steelman, 20, of Edwardsville, reports said. "The Steelman auto was traveling south in an adjacent lane, it was noted."

Released on bond, finds tires cut

Leonard A. Leleniewski, 24, of 2912 Willow Ave., was arrested at 12:55 a.m. Sunday on charges of battery and disorderly conduct when police went to the residence after receiving a report of a loud party taking place.

Several people were standing on the front yard when officers arrived and Leleniewski was inside the house allegedly fighting with others.

Mark Widel of Granite City alleged Leleniewski struck his face several times, causing swelling to the lips. Debbie Leleniewski reported her former husband came into the dwelling and yelled and screamed at those present.

Leleniewski allegedly began fighting with an officer while being handcuffed and was subsequently charged. He was released at 8:30 a.m. Sunday upon posting at $104 cash bond.

After returning to the residence, Leleniewski notified police that all four tires on his 1976 Pontiac had been cut with a knife and a vehicle apparently was driven over some rose bushes and flowers in the yard.
